General State News.

Daniel Billings of Belding, is missing with his youngest child. Billings has had a romantic life. It seems that about seventeen years ago he married a young woman at Fenwick, Montcalm county and settled there. They lived together for all years, when his wife left him with four small children. He could find no trace of her. Four years afterwards he filed a petition for a divorce, when he received a letter from his wife telling of her being seriously ill. Next he received a telegram anneancing her death. He dropped the divorce proceedings and married again, settling at Heiding. About a west ago wife No. I arrived at their old home at Fenwick and wrote to him. What she wrote is not fully known, but sure a tie that she demanded her youngest child. Some think he has joined the woman while others believe he is hiding the child from her.
